

CONGRESS AN IPHONE FAV

Congress is anything but hip, but an iPhone application highlighting the institution is doing quite well.

The iPhone app "Congress In Your Pocket" is being featured by the iTunes App Store as a "Staff Favorite." The application allows users to research and contact members of Congress and their staff.

"We are honored to be recognized again by Apple, this time as a Staff Favorite. Congress In Your Pocket provides an amazing amount of information at a very low cost enabling anyone who wants to be involved in politics to get active right away," said Michael D. Cohen, Ph.D., owner of Cohen Research Group, which developed the application. "In this era of mobility where we all work outside the office, it's imperative for political professionals, reporters and activists to have this information with them all the time."
